INTRODUCTION

Teaching Abroad consists of classified lists of teaching and research staff from universities and equivalent institutions who have indicated an interest in taking up short or long-term positions in countries other than their own. They include teaching and research personnel of all branches of science and learning and of all grades, and the administrative personnel and technical staff for libraries, museums, laboratories, clinics, etc. These lists are published in one main issue of Teaching Abroad each year and include all persons on Unesco's rosters at that time. Supplementary lists are issued, when necessary, during each year. The main issue and supplementary lists are distributed to about six hundred universities and institutions as a Supplement to the Bulletin of the International Association of Universities, and to organizations dealing with international exchanges and placement of academic staff.

The code numbers at the end of each item serve as references. In order to obtain the name, address and further particulars of an individual, requests should be made to Unesco's Exchange of Persons Programme, 19 Avenue Kléber, Paris-16<sup>e</sup>, mentioning the code number.

Suggestions of suitable candidates for vacant posts in higher education and research can also be obtained if a detailed description of the vacancy is communicated to Unesco. Currently, Unesco is engaged in finding staff for more than a hundred vacant posts in 15 countries.

In publishing the information contained in Teaching Abroad, Unesco takes no responsibility for the selection of potential candidates and makes no judgment on their suitability for specific positions; nor can any assurance be given to universities as to the immediate availability of individuals included in the list. However, it is believed that by making this information available, it may be possible to aid universities by putting them in touch with persons interested in teaching abroad.

Several copies of the Personal Description form accompany each copy of Teaching Abroad, for the use of staff wishing to accept a position abroad; a specimen of a form for describing vacant posts is also included.

INTRODUCTION

La brochure Enseignement à l'étranger est un recueil de listes méthodiques de membres du personnel enseignant ou de recherche attaché à des universités ou à des institutions analogues, qui sont candidats à des postes d'enseignement de durée variable, dans un pays autre que le leur. Outre ces professeurs et ces spécialistes de la recherche, dont l'activité s'exerce dans les domaines les plus variés et dont les titres sont très divers, les listes comprennent certains membres du personnel administratif ou technique des bibliothèques, musées, laboratoires, cliniques, etc. Enseignement à l'étranger paraît une fois par an et constitue une récapitulation générale des candidatures enregistrées, à cette date, par l'Unesco. Des listes complémentaires sont publiées, s'il est nécessaire, en cours d'année. La brochure principale et les listes complémentaires sont distribuées à environ six cents universités et institutions diverses sous la forme de suppléments au Bulletin de l'Association internationale des universités; elles sont également envoyées aux organisations qui s'occupent d'échanges internationaux et de placement du personnel universitaire.

Des indices de référence suivent chaque notice individuelle. Pour obtenir le nom d'un candidat, son adresse et tous autres renseignements à son sujet, adresser les demandes au Programme des échanges de personnes de l'Unesco, 19, avenue Kléber, Paris-16<sup>e</sup>, en rappelant l'indice de référence.

L'Unesco peut également proposer des candidats qualifiés pour occuper les postes vacants dans l'enseignement supérieur et les services de recherche. Il suffit de lui envoyer des indications précises sur la nature de chaque poste. A l'heure actuelle, elle s'efforce de pourvoir plus de cent postes, dans quinze pays différents.

En publiant les indications contenues dans Enseignement à l'étranger, l'Unesco n'assume aucune responsabilité quant au choix de candidats possibles, et ne porte aucun jugement sur leur aptitude à exercer telle ou telle fonction; elle ne peut pas non plus garantir que tel ou tel candidat inscrit sur ses listes sera immédiatement disponible. Elle espère toutefois que la publication de ces renseignements apportera une aide aux universités en leur permettant d'entrer en rapport avec des personnes qui aimeraient enseigner à l'étranger.

Chaque exemplaire d'Enseignement à l'étranger est accompagné de plusieurs fiches signalétiques destinées aux membres du personnel universitaire qui seraient disposés à accepter un poste d'enseignement à l'étranger, ainsi que d'un modèle de fiche pour la description des postes vacants.
